There Is A Time For . . .

There is a time for everything at Indian River High School. We are not just a school of outstanding academics, but also we support our sports and extra-curricular activities. We have our times of study and our times of fun. There is time to make new friends and a time to say good-bye to the old ones. There is a time for unity, as we show our pride in I.R.H.S., and a time to work alone to accomplish personal goals. Susan Rayne pauses in the sun. Myron Drummond and Bolarius Handy decorate our halls with Indian River art work. Tonya Mitchell and Mike Carter take time out from a busy day. Keith McCabe and Dawn Grover share a hug in the hall.

There Is A Time For . . .

. . . rebuilding our school.

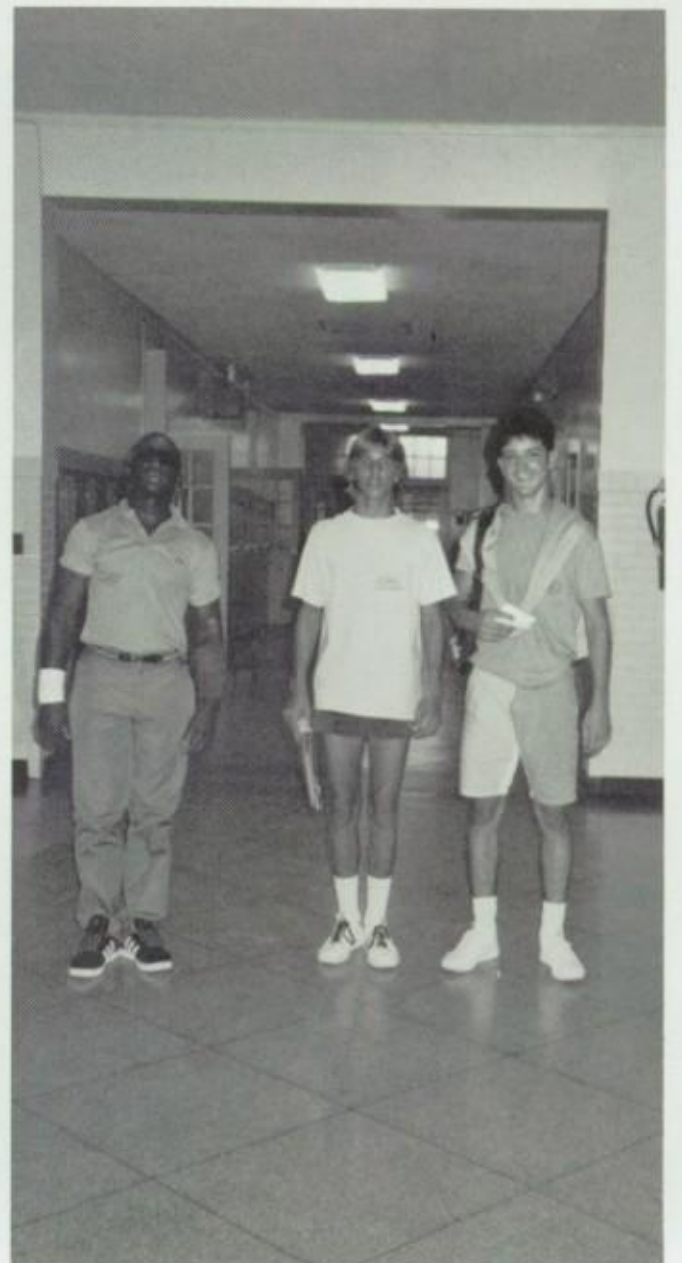

A time for beginning another school year.

A time for IR Pride.

A time for new responsibilities.

A time to plan for the future and to dream of our years ahead.

Student Life

There is a time for individuality at Indian River as in all schools. Our students are unique. They are different from students of other schools. Whether they are rehearsing, leaving school, reading in the library or posing for the photographer, the Indians remain special. Even in pairs, our students remain individuals.

Only we are the Indians!

A TIME TO PAUSE

The moments that are captured here
Can be seen throughout the year.
These pictures remind us of the past,
Moments that came and went too fast.

So, now let's pause to remember
As

Connie stops to speak _____
While Scott and Devi look so sweet

Scott and Maryann,
(a wild and crazy pair)

There's Dawn, who swears that
She just doesn't care _____

Mandy is seen as she turns around
As a moment later, Heidi jumps down _____

Each of these moments had a cause
And as we reflect, we take time to pause

_____ Maryann Moore

Student Life

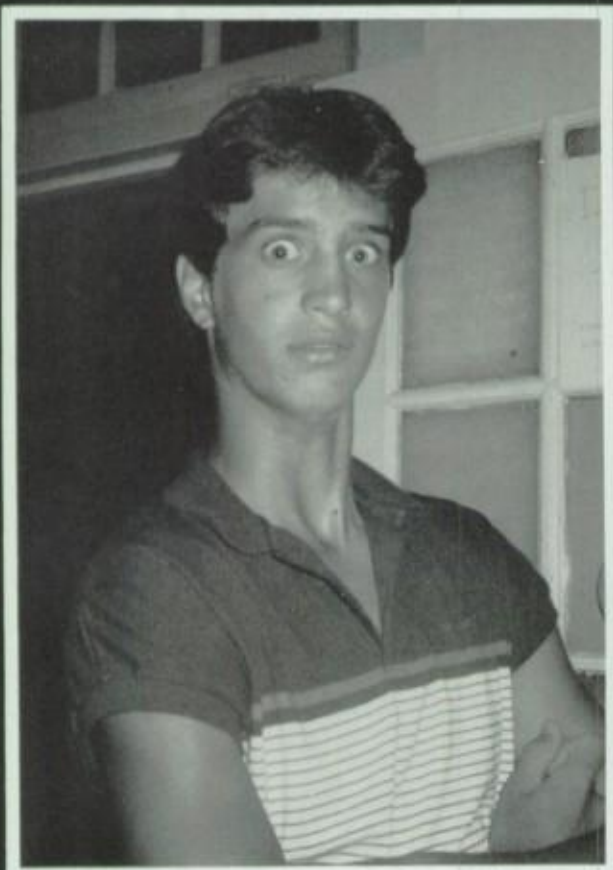

... a time for school. Although students have a life outside of school, most of their time is spent in school. Our time for school is now. Most of our friends are made in school. Our social activities revolve around the school. We may not always enjoy each moment of the school day, but they are days we'll never forget. Beth Owen listens attentively in class. Connie Stevenson displays a friendly smile. Keith McCabe enjoys his summer before the start of school.

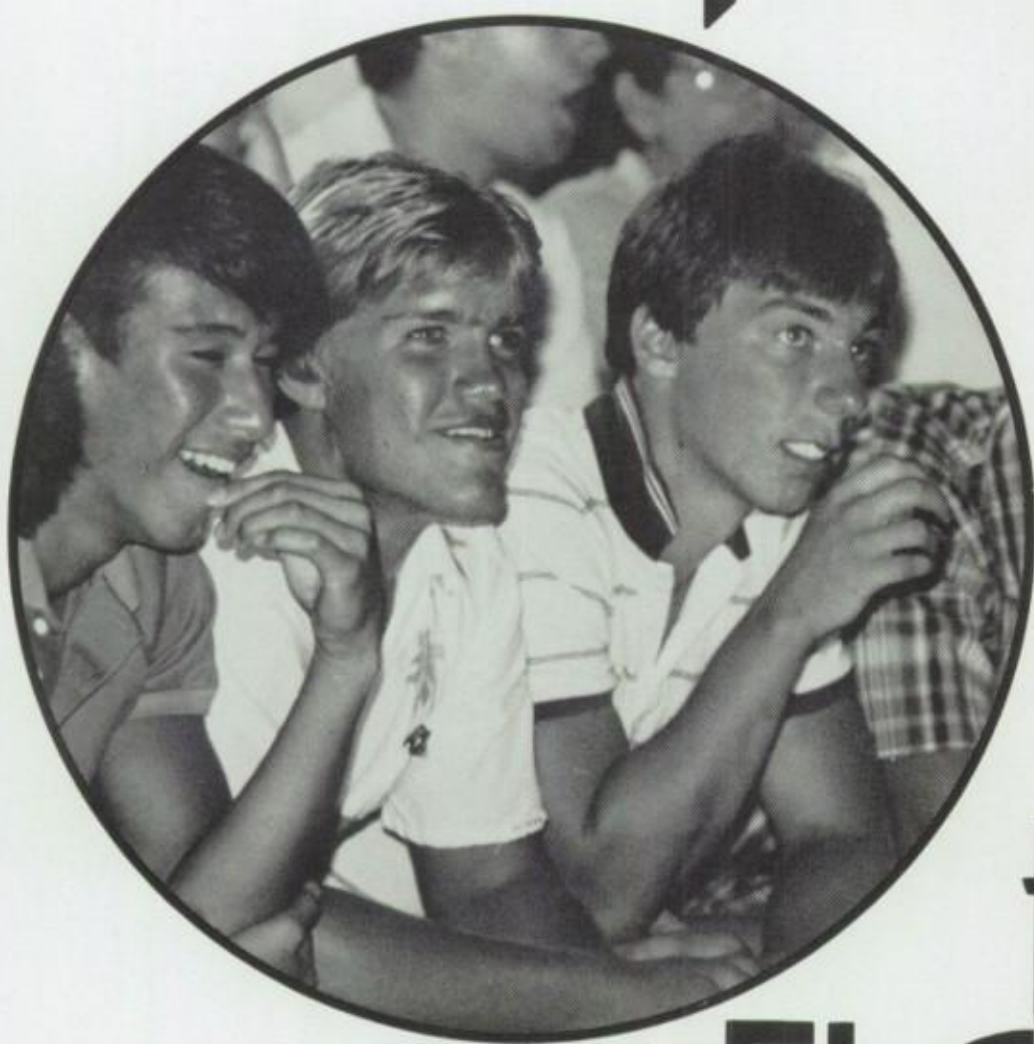

John McCormick is thinking of a new idea. Celeste Tanner prepares another French lesson. Nora Powell and friends enjoy an assembly. Earllaine Simpler pense à une réponse.

A Time For Heaven

"HEAVEN," the 1985 Junior-Senior Prom was inspired by a song by Bryan Adams. The prom opened with the Grand March at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Mark Steele and Mrs. Martha White announced the couples as they walked across the stage for their moment in the spotlight.

The couples then went to the gym, and were enveloped in white puffy clouds and sparkling stars, which truly reflected "A NIGHT IN HEAVEN."

A Time To Smile

These photographs from the 11th of May
Show memories of such a fantastic day!

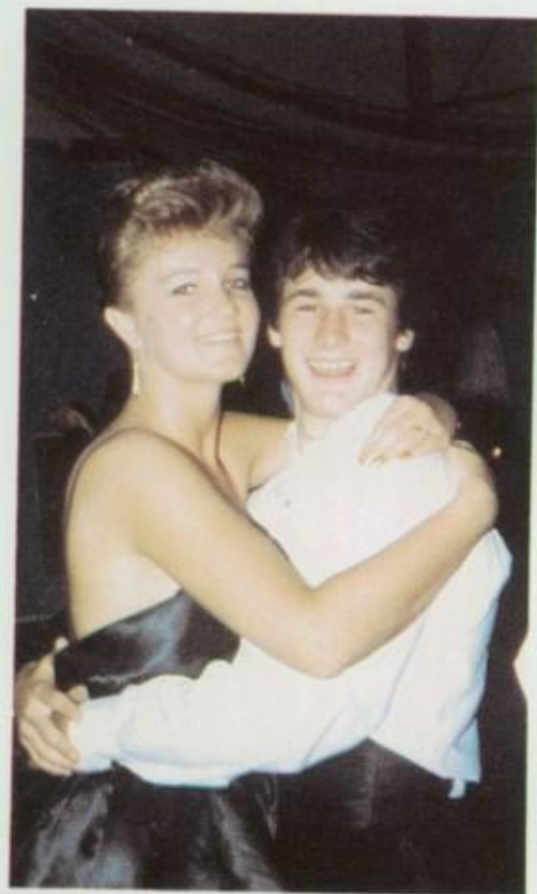

Everywhere you look, a smile is seen,
(Note Freddie and Suzanne, our king and queen.)

Then notice Keith, with his mouth open wide _____
Or glance across to the other side

To Terry, who's really enjoying the Prom
Which, in these photos, will never be gone . . .

These memories we will always cherish,
For moments like these will never perish.

——Maryann Moore

A Time For . . . Preparation

The '85 Prom was a huge success,
Due to a lot of hard work.
The Juniors struggled to convert
The gym into a world of stars.

They had less than a week to make
A fantasy "Night in Heaven."
Mr. Adams, the resident "prom expert,"
With two Macklins and a Tiffany
Did help.

When the night of May 11 arrived
And all was done to perfection,
It truly became a "Night in Heaven,"
One that will long be remembered.

A Time To... Remember

Stevie and Clint pause to fool around,
While Terry and Keith try to get down.
Steve has ideas that never fail,
(But using a sockett to hammer a nail?)
Mr. Macklin, he doesn't understand
But Melanie tries as best she can
To give him a firm and helping hand.
We've finally got Scott, Chris, and Steve

To reach and stretch for higher things-
So now they're reaching for the stars;
But as we all gaze up above,
Shannon, Renee, and even Ann
Just don't seem to be getting too far.
Donald makes sure the cloud is just right,
It has to be, for the perfect prom night.
Darlene, she gathers the gang together
For a picture they know will last forever.

Finally, the work has all been done
And for the Class of '86, it sure was fun!

Boys' And Girls' State

Beth Reister, Bake Timmons, Clint Bunting, John Angle, Ann Turner

Girls State was similar to an introductory state government course but with an added bonus: we learned from "hands on" experience rather than from a textbook. On the first day, we organized parties and platforms and we elected officers to run for elected state positions. From then on, it was non-stop political activity. During the legislative sessions, members of the House and Senate battled with issues such as child abuse and mandatory seat-belt laws. All issues however were not so serious. Our experience at Girls State made us much more aware of the complexities of life in the political arena. It was a rewarding experience in many respects.

Beth Reister

Unlike the stereotypical academic program, Boys State is a spontaneous, open-ended experience. The work deals with state politics, but the objective concerns the development of leadership ability. On the other hand, Boys State is similar to any good academic program in that it is intellectually rewarding and involves participation in the machinery of its subject—government.

Bake Timmons

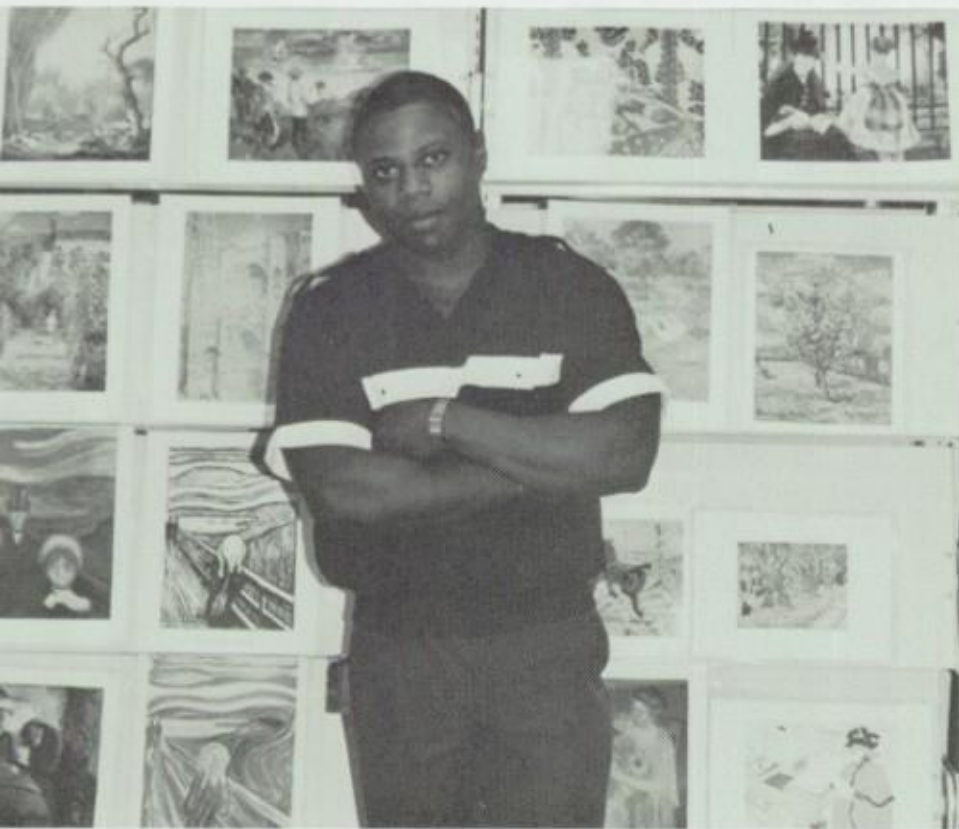

Boys State was a rewarding experience I'll cherish forever. I was given the privileges of being an adult legislator and of making important decisions to help the State of Delaware. But most of all I had the chance to associate with a great group of exciting and goal-oriented young men from surrounding Delaware schools. It was an honor to represent Indian River High School in Dover this summer.

Clint Bunting

Girls State was a memorable learning experience for me. During my stay at Wesley College, I met girls from all over the entire State of Delaware and made many friends that I will never forget. I learned a great deal about how the government really works. We visited Legislative Hall where we were divided into representatives and senators. We were then sent to our designated chambers, which were the House and Senate. Once there, we went through the process of passing a bill through both the House and Senate. If the bill passed with a majority vote of both houses, it became a law. My experience at Girls State made me realize how important it is to get involved if you want to get things done.

Ann Turner

Awards

Winning the V.F.W. contest is mainly due to the encouragement from Mrs. Dick. She inspires me to take a chance with my art. Starting out, I wasn't sure I was going to enter last year, but my friends urged me on. Keith Harmon, also helped me make the perspective of my painting a success. After considering several ideas, I decided to paint Lady Liberty. Winning the District and States this year and last and then going to the Nationals was fun. I hope this year will be even more exciting.

Earlier in the year, President Reagan proclaimed 1985 International Youth Year. Secretary of Education, William J. Bennett, sponsored a series of events honoring youth displaying outstanding character and citizenship. Out of 1000 applicants from all over the United States 157 students were chosen to be honored. Five or six students or student groups were chosen from each state. They were given a plaque and letters of congratulations from Secretary Bennett and President Reagan at regional award banquets.

The topic of this year's annual Voice of Democracy contest, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was "New Horizons for America's Youth". Participants in this contest had to first compete at a school level and then advance to the County, State and National levels. I was fortunate enough to be our school's winner and then I took 3rd place on the county level.

The summer week spent on the University of Delaware campus in the Governor's School for Excellence Program was, for the most part, six days of discovery and friendship. A few days were devoted to general academic disciplines such as science, government, and economics. An opportunity to chat with the Governor and a day of celebration and goodbyes comprised the remainder of the stay. The most important part of the program, however, was the chance to meet intelligent students from all over Delaware. It gave students from small schools an opportunity to encounter students of their same abilities and interests.

Many students at I.R. are involved in the Cooperative Diversified Occupations Program, otherwise known as "Co-op". Co-op gives students the chance to go to school and work at the same time. Students receive work experience through the school and other employers. The Co-op program is administered by Mr. Harrison H. Short. Mr. Short has arranged a program that encourages students to work and prepare themselves for the real world in which they will soon be entering.

Gloria

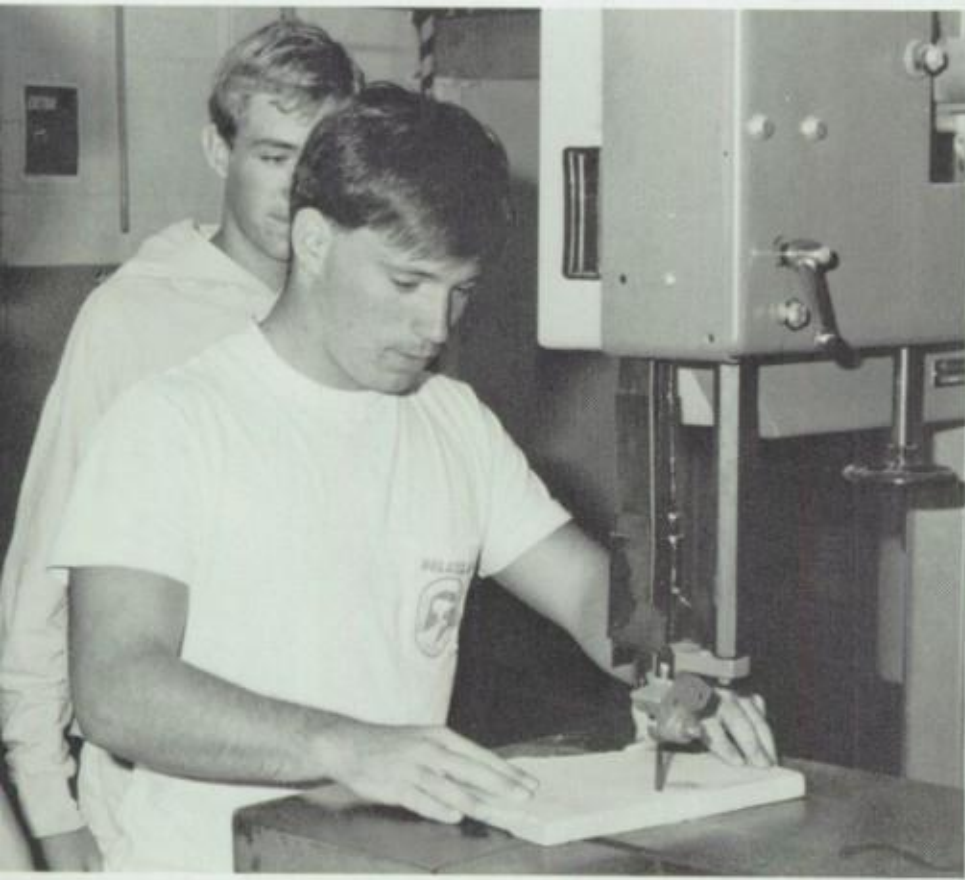

1985

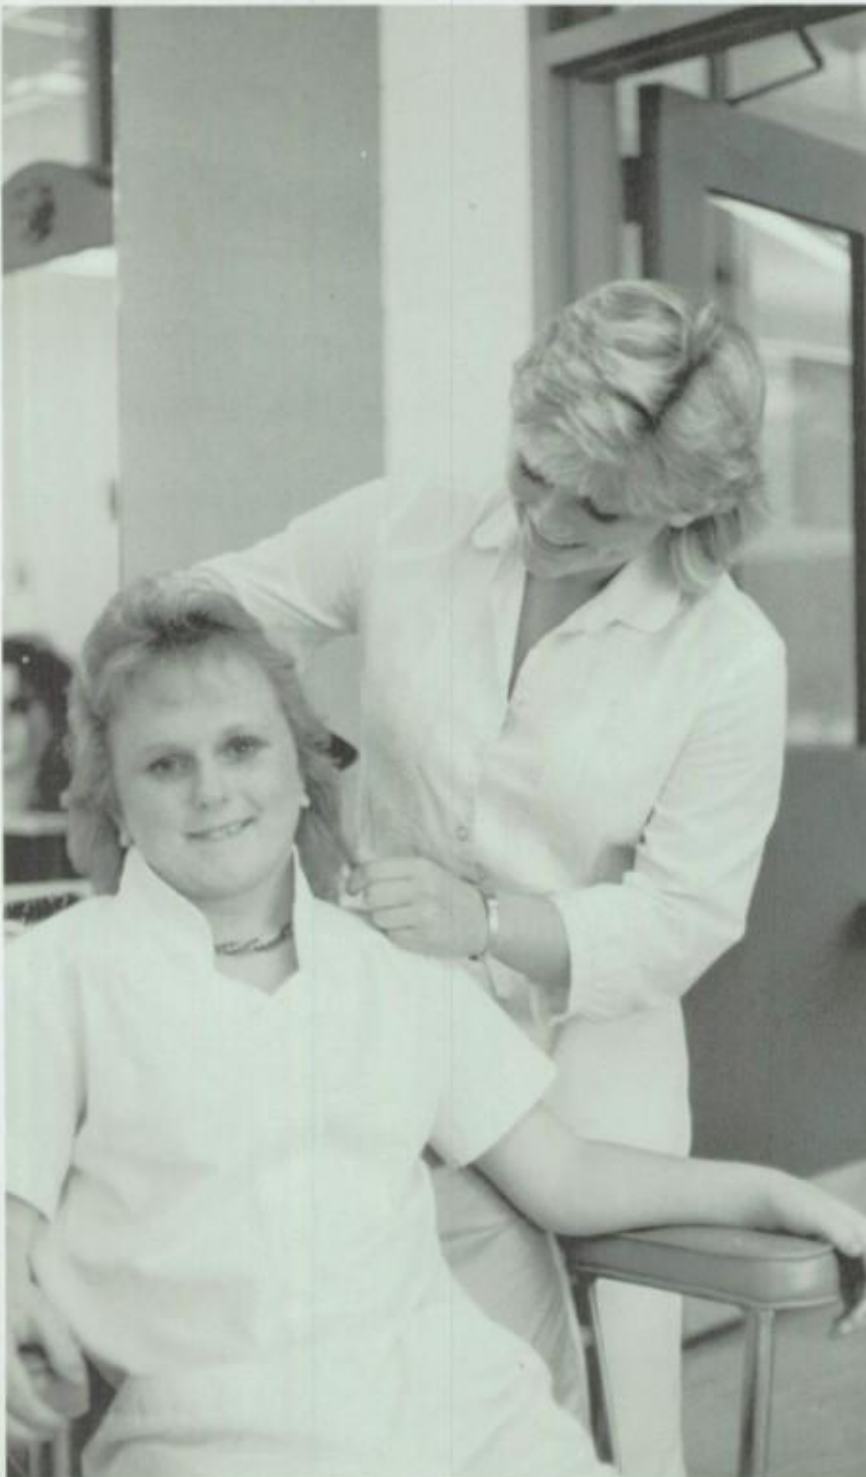

One of the most memorable events of the 1985-86 school year was the arrival of Hurricane Gloria, which ushered in the school year. It struck the Delmarva Peninsula on September 27, 1985. Ocean City, Fenwick Island, and Bethany Beach were quickly evacuated as were many surrounding towns. Throughout this time Indian River High School was used as a shelter, and was filled to capacity. Not everyone took Gloria so seriously though. The guys from Bethany Surf Shop boarded up the windows and wrote a little message to Gloria. Tommy Timmons was one of the brave ones who ventured out to catch those great waves. Fortunately, the storm was not as severe as predicted, and damage was minimal.

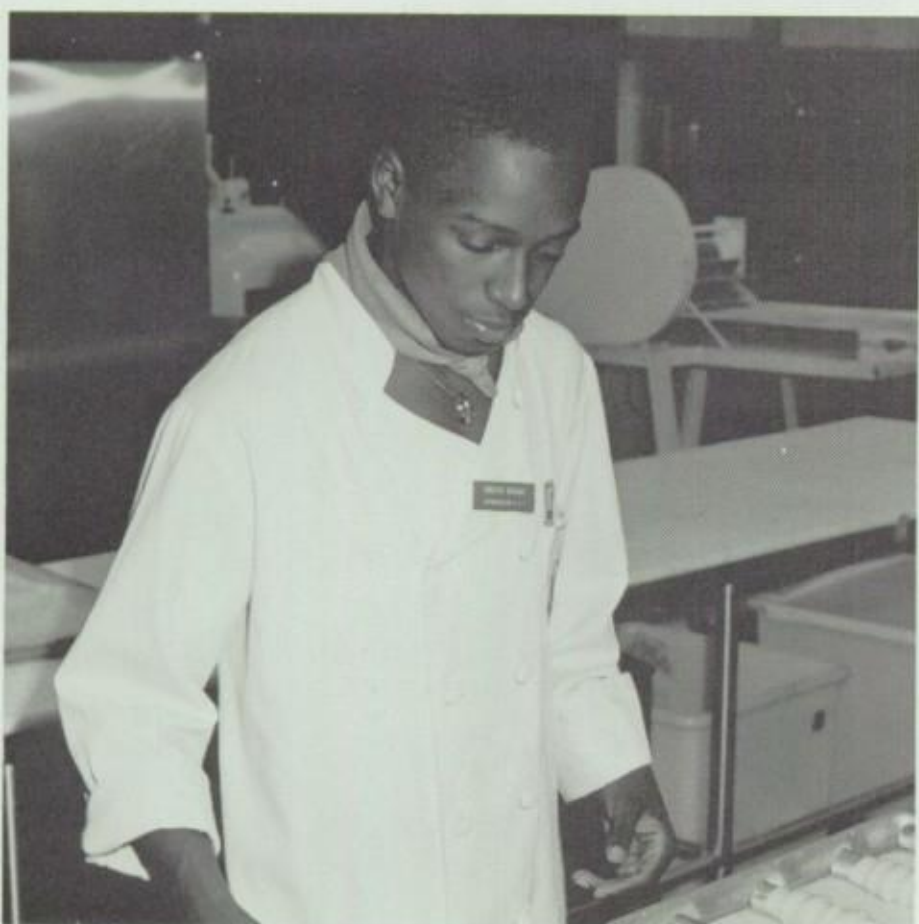

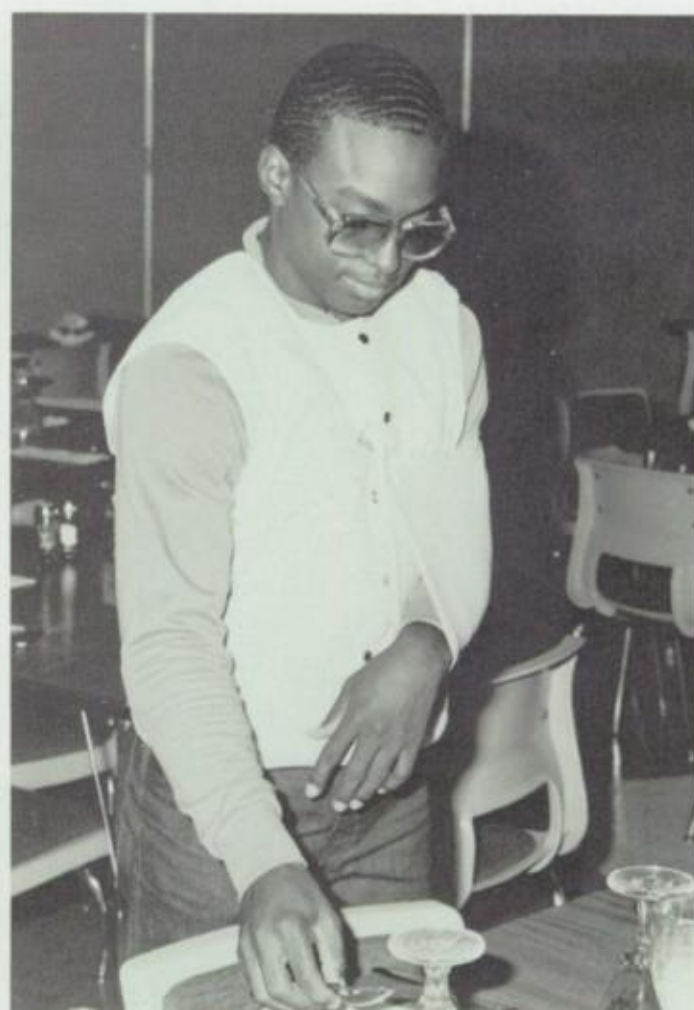

Vo-Tech is a school located in Georgetown that provides training in vocational and technical fields. Speak

Vo-Tech has done a great deal for me and my friends. Everyone who attends this special school benefits. It has prepared all of us for life after Indian River. We will be ready for new careers as soon as we graduate. Vo-Tech graduates will not have to go to college to acquire job skills. We will be ready.

Stacey Lewis

Vo-Tech has helped me to accomplish something that neither high school nor college could do. It has prepared me and trained me for a valuable career in cosmetology.

Lisa Frisby

Vo-Tech has taught me a trade so that I won't have to go to college if I don't want to. Vo-Tech has given me the opportunity to meet other students from different schools. It has broadened my education because we learn more than the standard subjects taught in most high schools.

Homecoming

1985

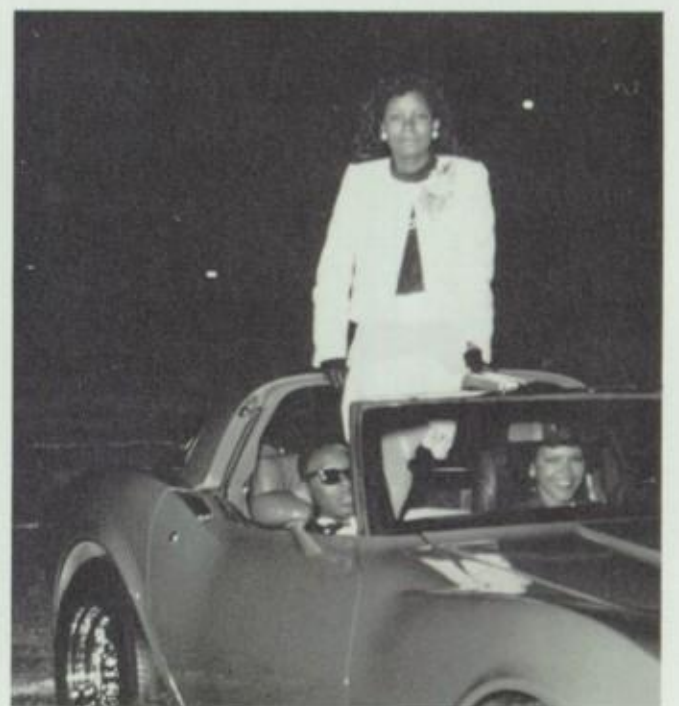

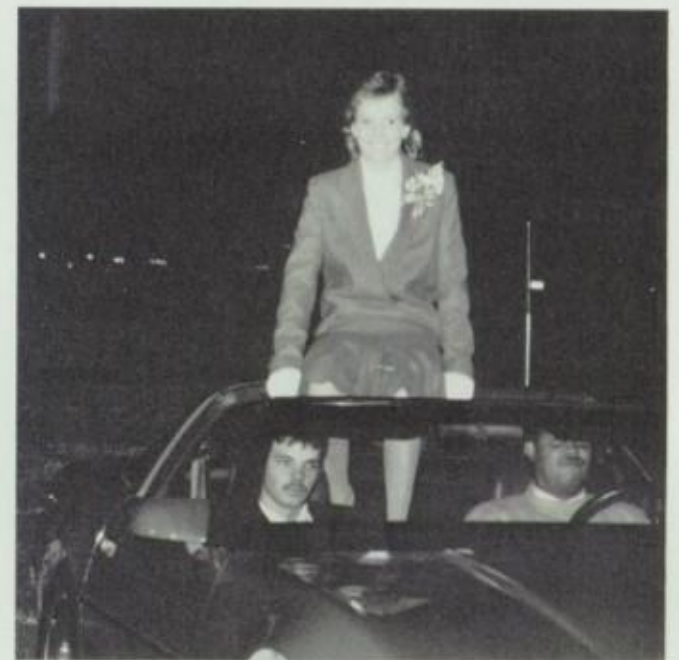

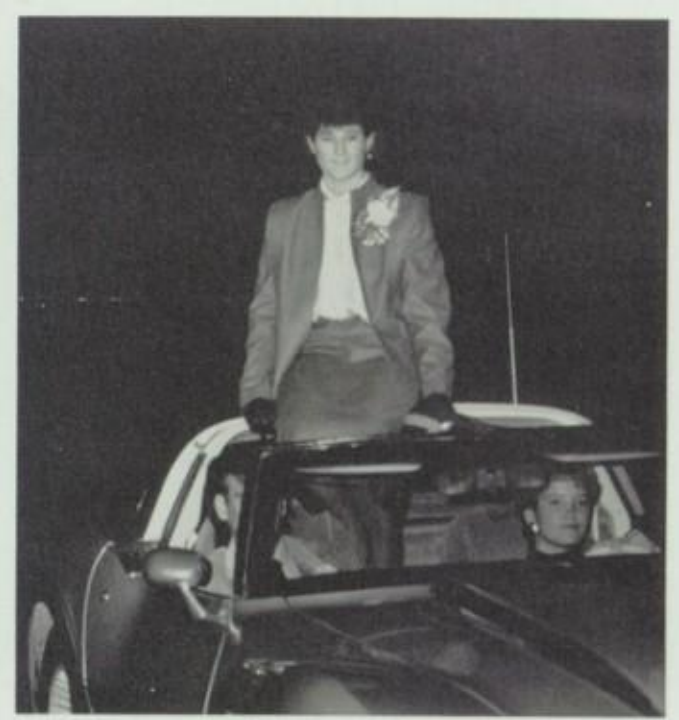

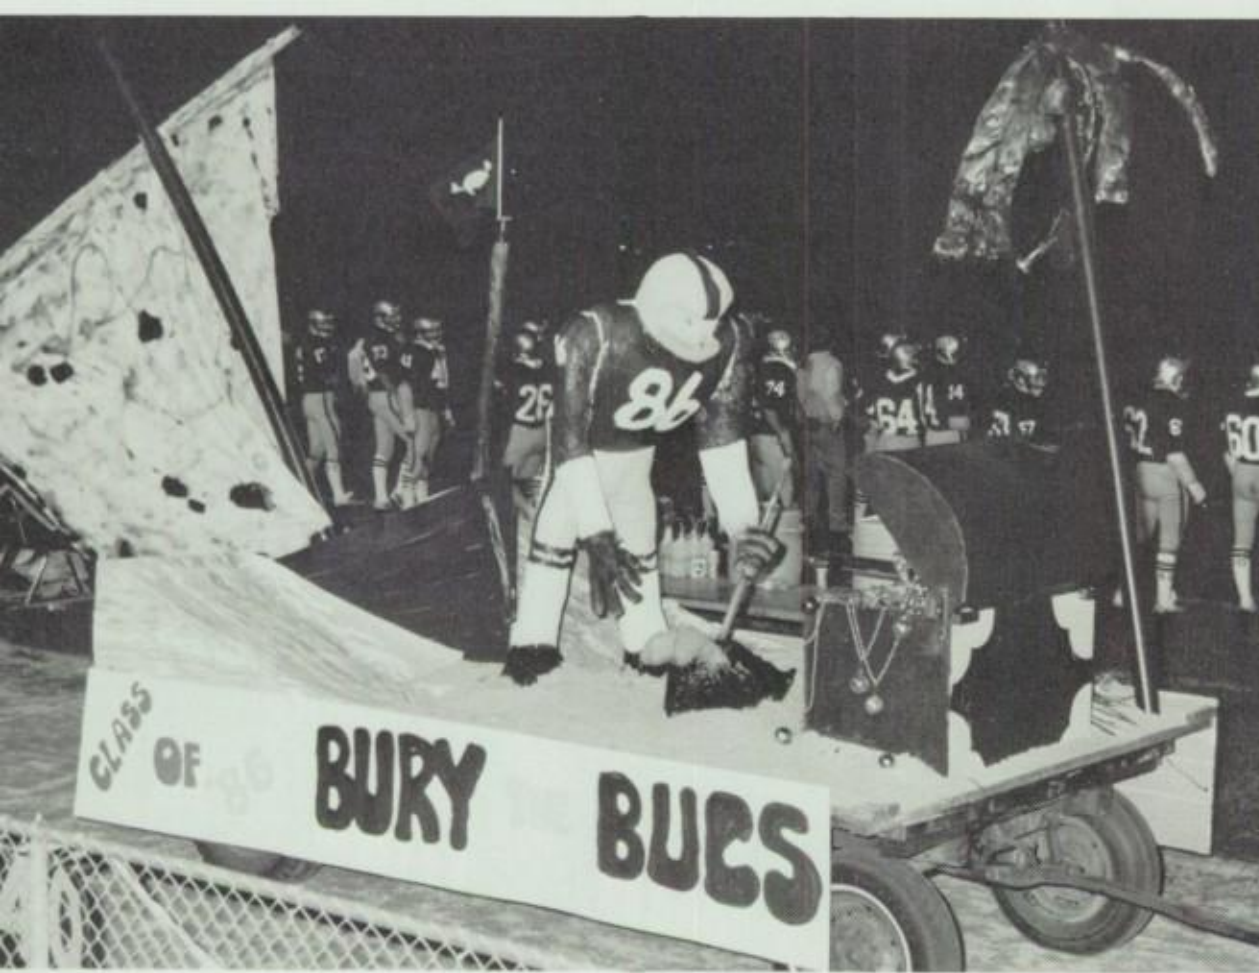

The annual bonfire took place the night before Homecoming. Coach Dale Steele announced the starting line up and the cheerleaders did their best to cheer them on. The following afternoon a very different and unique pep rally took place. The senior football players exchanged uniforms with the cheerleaders and together they put on the most exciting pep rally ever. Scott Willey, Steve Huovinen, Craig Jarvis, Chris Megee, Mark McCormick, Donald Berkey, Woody Vickers, Steve Breasure, and Clint Bunting kept the student body alive with the anticipation of what they would do next. They didn't dissappoint us!

Homecoming Queen Missy Luzier escorted by Jerry Adams.

Homecoming Night

Homecoming night finally arrived along with the 1985-86 Homecoming Queen - Miss Missy Luzier. The attendants rode around the football field in Corvettes owned by local residents. The Sophomore attendant was Marvella Jarmon, the Junior attendant was Tammy Townsend, and the three Senior attendants were Shannon Daly, Missy Luzier, and Darlene Mumford. Once again this year the floats were a major part of Homecoming. The theme of the Sophomore and Junior floats was "Sink the Bucks." The football team did their best to make Homecoming a great success. Steve Huovinen, Clint Bunting, and James Hall added the final touches to make this year's Homecoming game one to remember, with a 20 to 14 victory over Milford.

Slave Day

Slave Day took place the day before Christmas break, and as usual there were incredible sights in our hallways. A few days prior, underclassmen bought their favorite seniors. The masters commanded their slaves to do everything from singing "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" to piling everyone's lunch trays in a little red wagon. Costumes ranged from unopened Christmas packages to an alleged flasher. As in times passed it definitely proved to be a memorable event for the senior class.

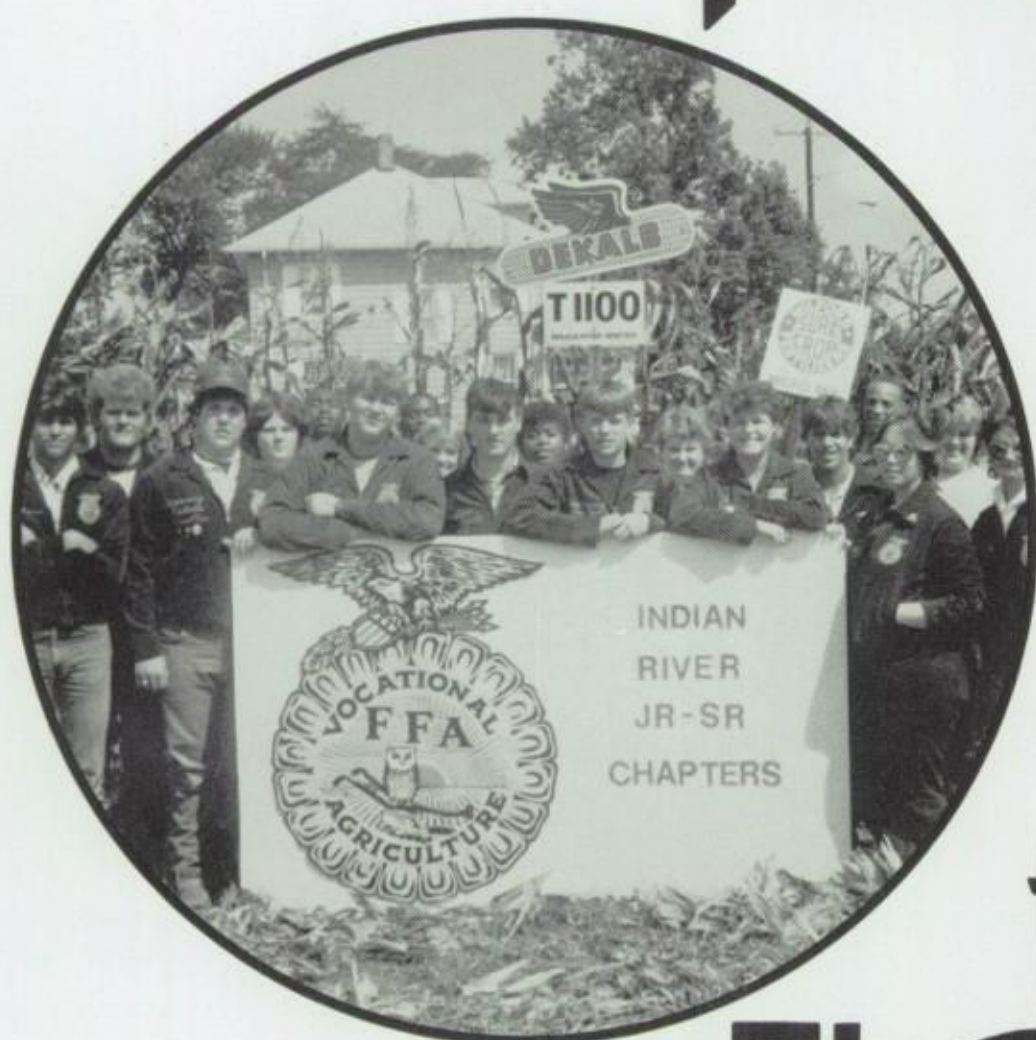

Thanksgiving

Day 1985

The 1985 Thanksgiving Day lunch was quite different from the normal everyday lunch. This year the cafeteria workers prepared an all-you-can-eat turkey dinner, that was enjoyed by all. Stacy Hudson, Steve Breasure, Shannon Daly, David Maull, Tim Campbell, Mark McCormick, Chris Bireley, Celeste McLaughlin, Wendy Joseph, Connie Stevenson, Kim Stevenson, Chris Megee, Maryann Moore, Steve Huovinen, Woody Vickers, Renee Murray, and Leanne Tingle decided to celebrate in the traditional way. These students brought in tablecloths, candles, cakes and pies to add to their Thanksgiving dinner. Even at IR, there is a time to carry out the holiday tradition.

French Club

The Indian River French Club is the oldest language club in our school. Over the years, more than 400 students have enjoyed the many activities and trips this club sponsors. The French Club began a tradition of visiting nearby universities and museums. These trips were so successful that other clubs have followed their lead. French Club members were the first to go X-mas caroling in the halls this year and the international dinner was a great success as always. The Club's visit to the Nemours Chateau in October was so much fun that club members insisted on a return trip in May. Perhaps the greatest contribution to life at I.R. is through the continuation of another French Club first: trips to Europe. More than 140 French Club students and their parents traveled to France, England, Italy, Switzerland, and Greece with Mr. Goldberg. Increasing their knowledge of other countries is obviously a priority for many French Club members!

Spanish Club

This years Spanish Club has been very active. The group took a one day trip to Washington D.C. to visit Georgetown University. The club had their annual Christmas party and they also had dinner in a Mexican restaurant. The Spanish Club officers are: President; Martina Irving, Vice-President; Kim Stevenson, Secretary; Marsha Banks, Treasurer; Lori McCabe.

Inside The Walls

We can't stay inside these sheltered walls forever,
It's time to realize we're not always going to be together.

It will soon be the end of our H.S.
days, and time for each of us to go our separate ways.

Even though we won't be within the same walls,
Or walk the same halls,
We'll come running when one of us calls.

So . . . When our last day arrives we must not cry,
For in our hearts we'll never say Goodbye!

For our Senior Superlatives as well as for all members of the class of 1986, the years at IR have, indeed, been a time for achieving, learning, and meeting many goals we have set. To be given the honor of being named Senior Superlatives, these "stars" have excelled in some aspect of school life, at least in the minds of their classmates. The reputation has been built over a number of years, but has culminated in being so honored in the senior year. The clock has run down for these seniors and their classmates and in a short time, a new day will be dawning and new opportunities will present themselves. May all members of this senior class discover that the time for success is yet ahead, and that they all have within themselves the potential to become superlatives.

A fine tradition has been established at Indian River High School in producing the Chieftain as a quality publication. The students who assisted in its preparation obviously take pride in their work.

We who enjoy the yearbook share in the spirit that it exemplifies in our school. In the years and decades ahead, the owners and readers of this school record for 1985-1986 will treasure it more and more as they advance in age for the memories it will recall. May all of these memories be pleasurable and comforting for all of us.

To the class of 1986:

Congratulations to you, the Graduating members of the Class of 1986. Graduation from High School is one of the important milestones in your life. You have set your goals and you have achieved them. However, the attainment of a High School Diploma is only one measure of success. I offer you the following definition of success.

"To laugh often and much; To win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; To earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; To appreciate beauty; To find the best in others; To leave the world a little better place than we found it, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; To know even one life breathed easier because you lived This is to have succeeded";

Wings:

*On the wings of eagles reach
A destiny of skies
A child lost in dreams becomes
The eagle as it flies.*

*The brightest star has fallen now
The sky has lost its light
Our hearts entwined to soar above
And guide us through the night.*

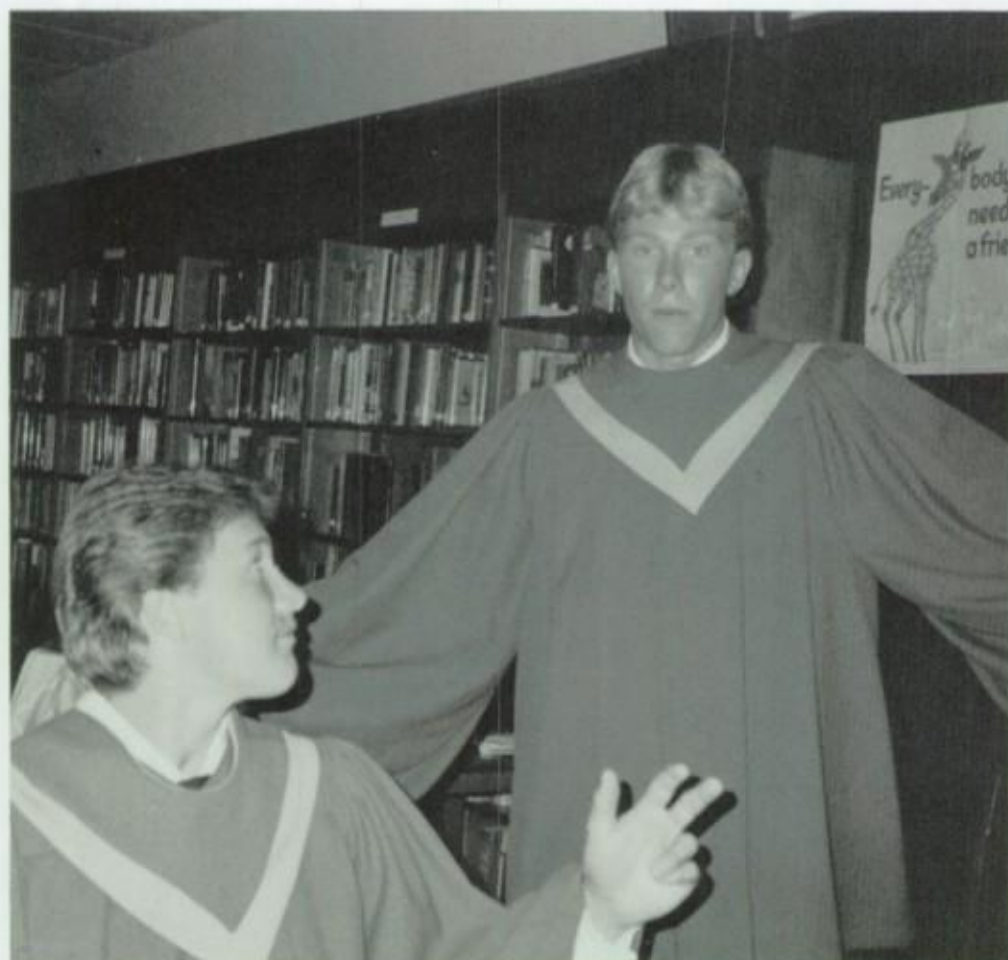

*When solemn words are spoke for them
Let sorrow never hide
That courage such as they possessed
Is borne aloft by pride*

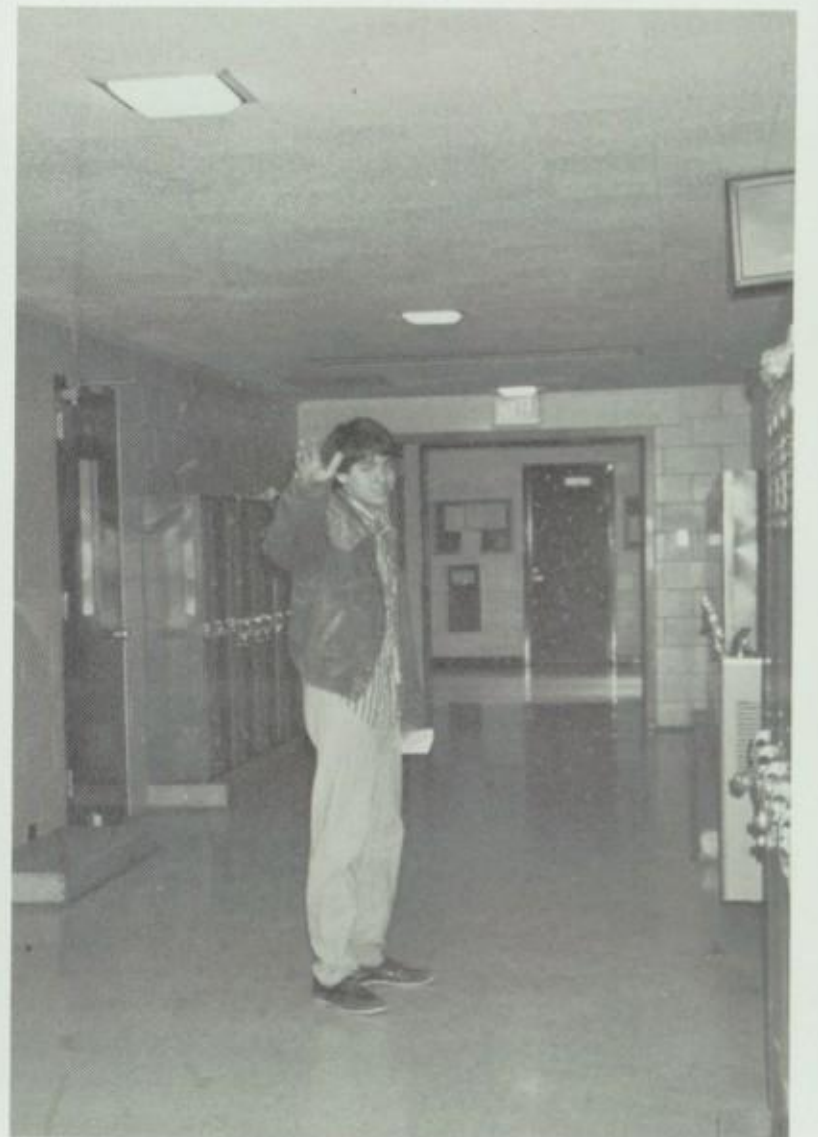

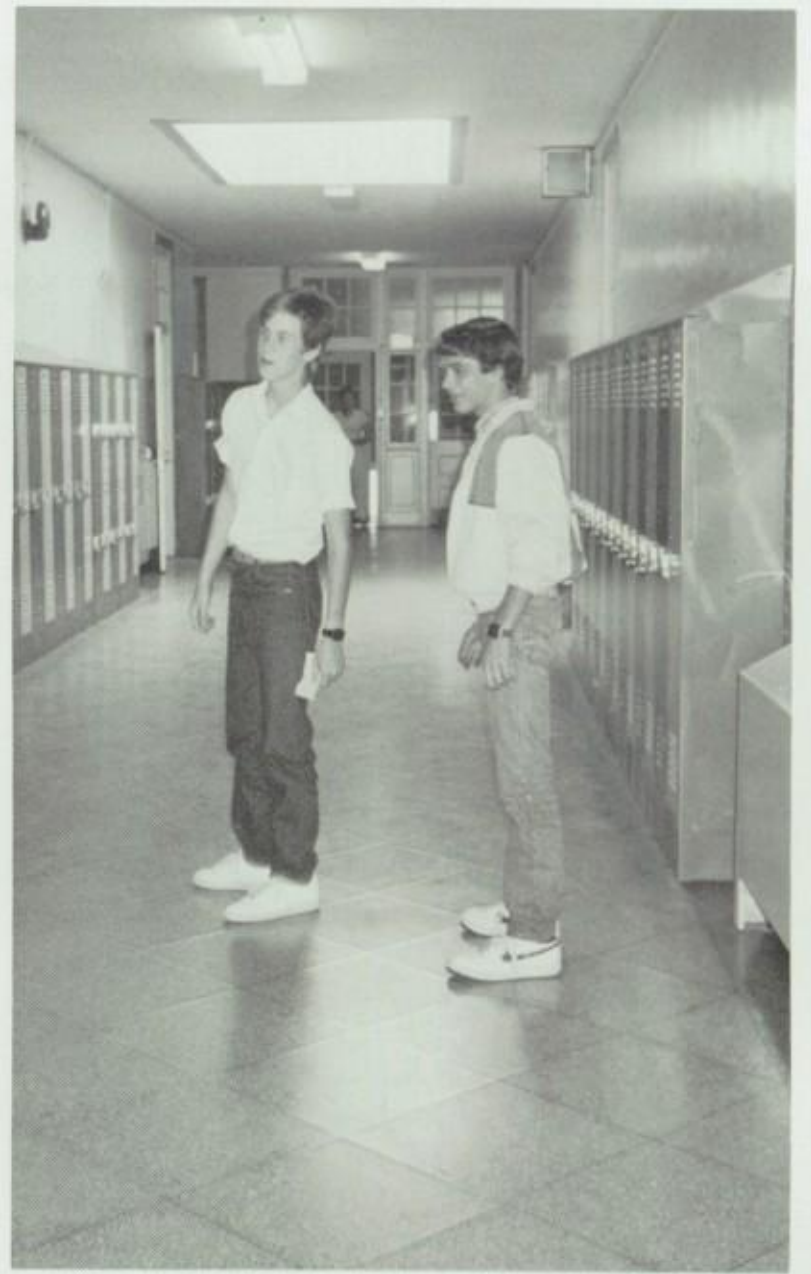

Leslie Randolph

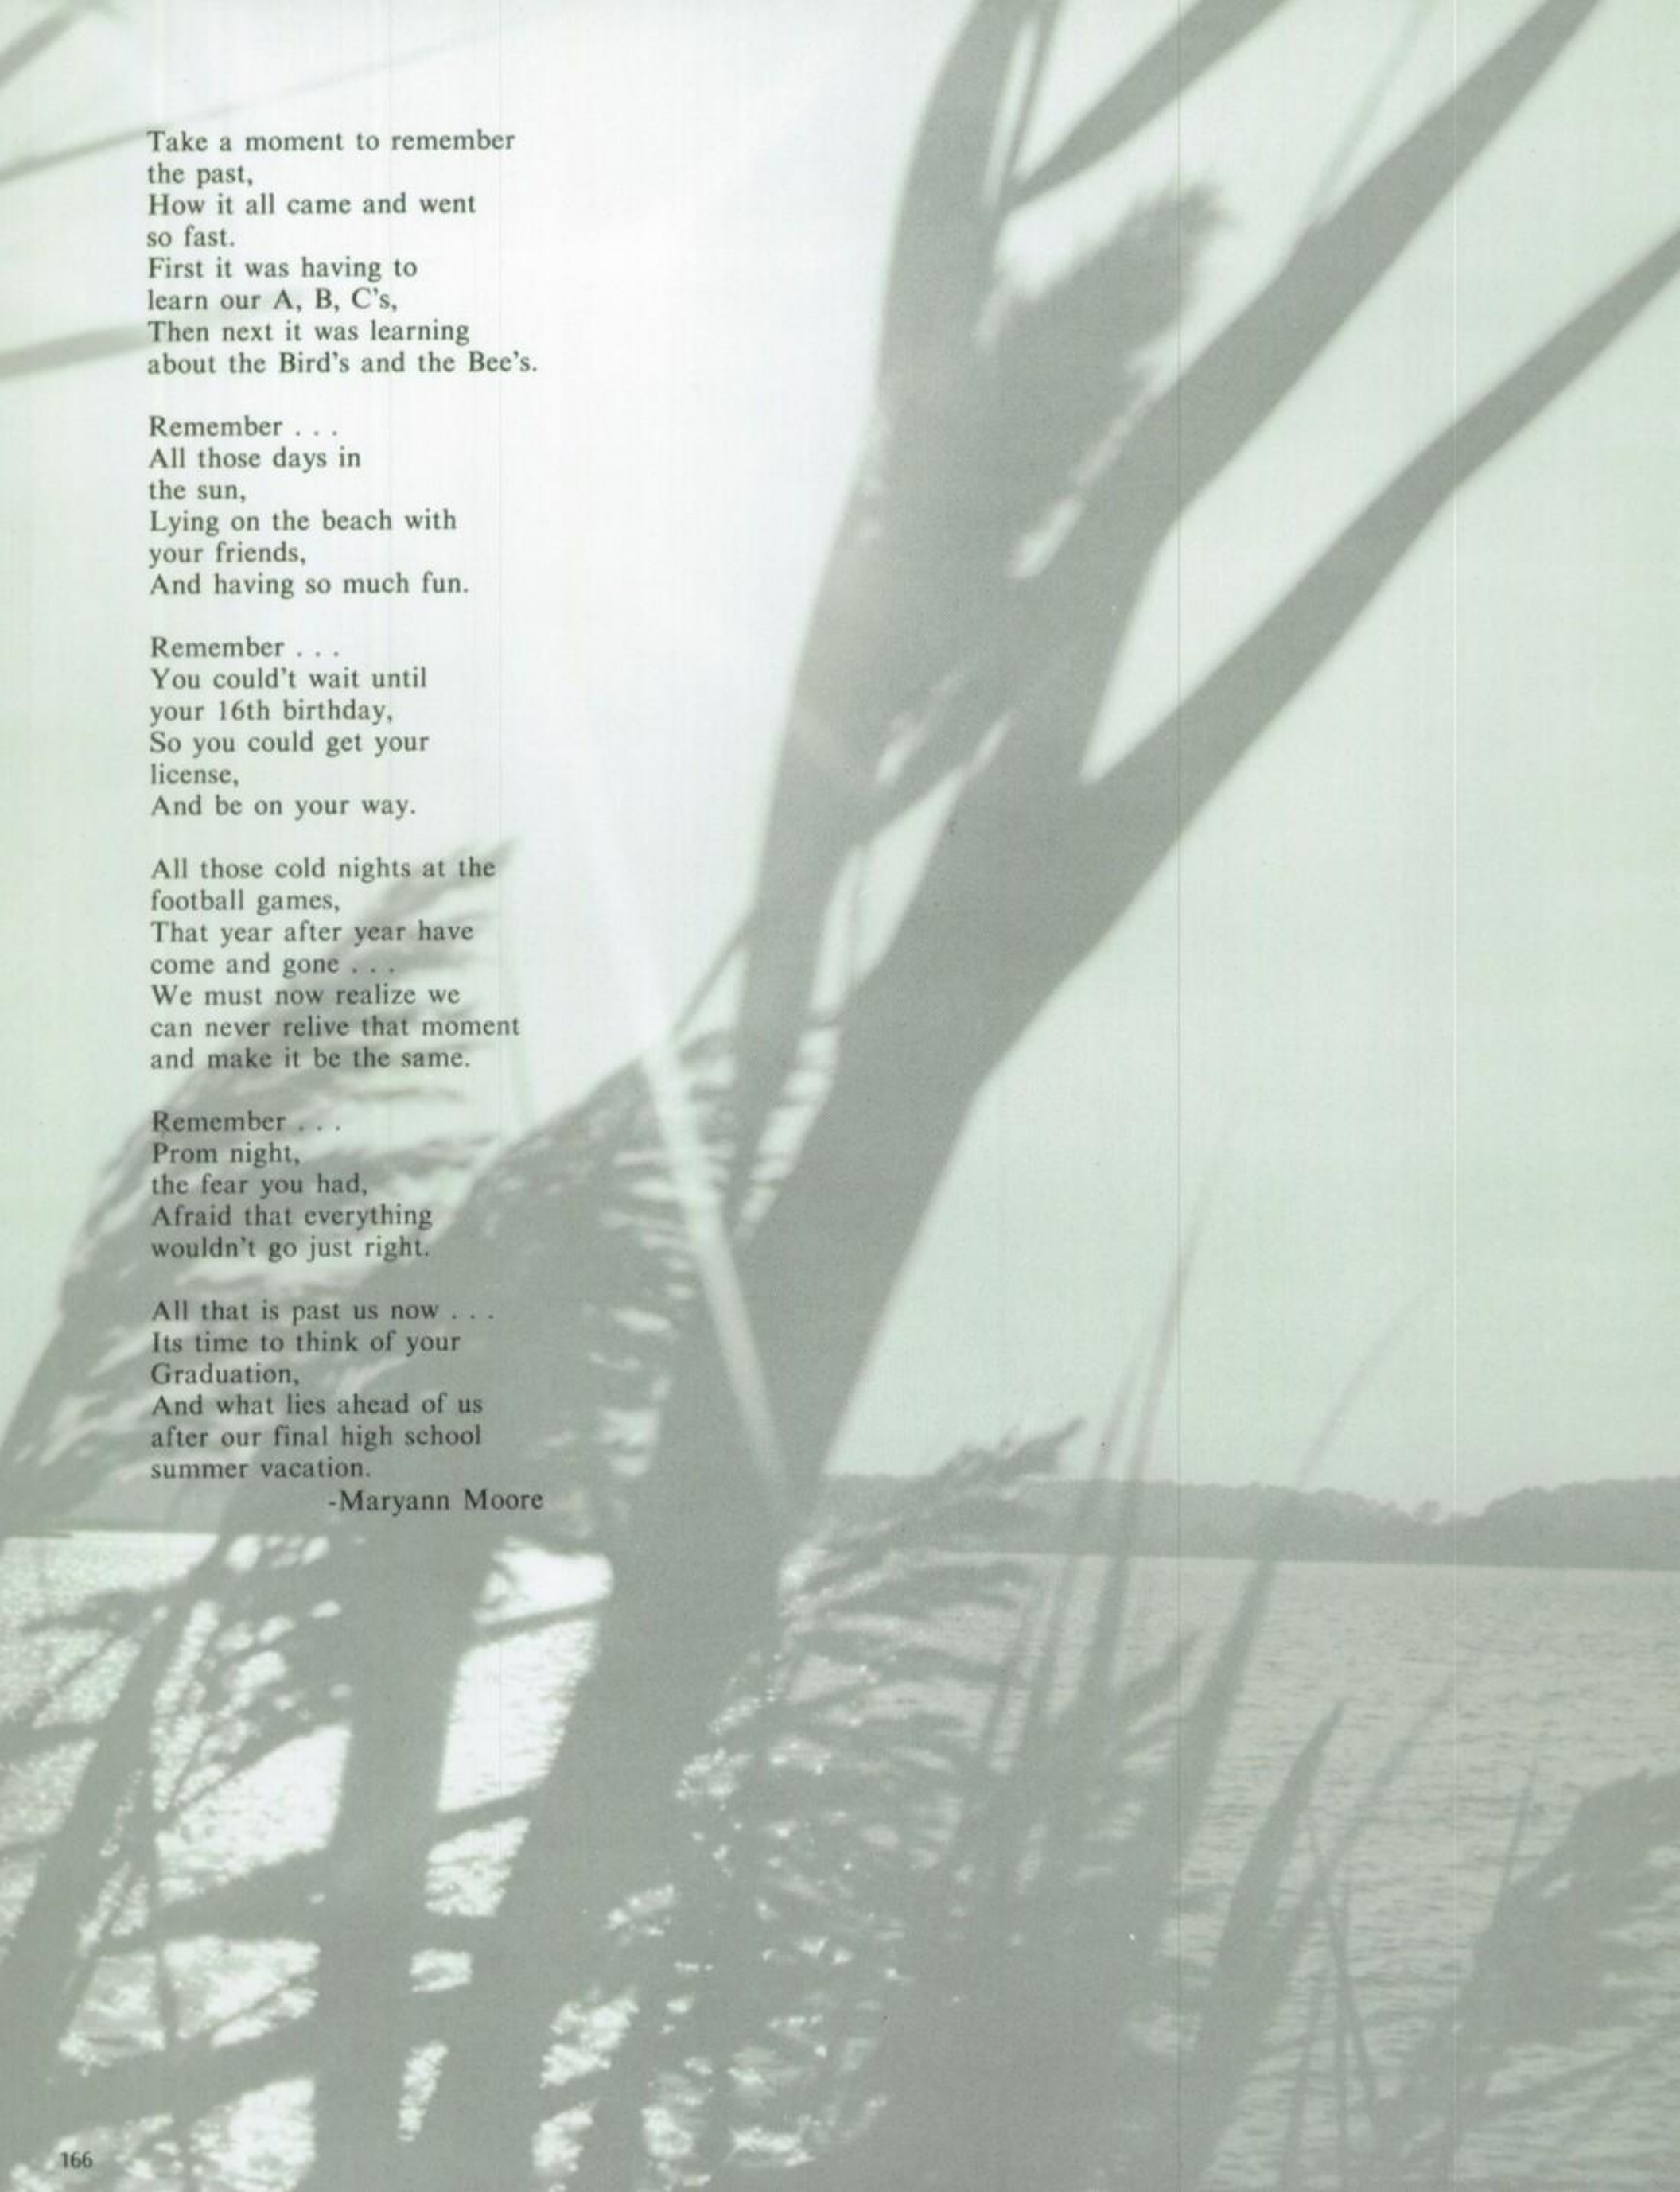

Yearbook dedications have become old fashioned lately. They were usually reserved for retiring guidance counselors or beloved teachers. This year's yearbook staff had not even contemplated dedicating the book to someone until the end of January. Then the space shuttle Challenger exploded ending the lives of seven astronauts and our ideas concerning dedications changed. Not since the death of John Kennedy has our country been so shaken by such a tragedy. Perhaps because one of the crew members was a teacher, this accident touched us more deeply. It is appropriate that we revive the tradition of dedicating the yearbook because these seven represent qualities that we sometimes think of as outdated: courage, bravery, patriotism. It is especially fitting that we dedicate this book to them because we as students would have received most of the benefit from their mission. Their explorations and discoveries would have been passed on to us, the next generation. Their mission was ours. Their loss is ours. We are their children just as all past generations are the children of all the great explorers and scientists who risked their lives to discover the answers to questions we all asked. We owe them a debt we can never repay. Only by renewing our dedication to learning and study can we hope to honor these seven. Their spirit must live on in us. We must go on just as their families must. Theirs was the ultimate sacrifice. Their sadness is deeper than ours but our responsibility to their memory is just as great. We must not fail them.

A Time To Say . . .

Farewell

Take a moment to remember
the past,
How it all came and went
so fast.
First it was having to
learn our A, B, C's,
Then next it was learning about the Bird's and the Bee's.

Remember . . .
All those days in the sun,
Lying on the beach with
your friends,
And having so much fun.

Remember . . .
You couldn't wait until
your 16th birthday,
So you could get your
license,
And be on your way.

All those cold nights at the football games,
That year after year have come and gone . . .
We must now realize we can never relive that moment
and make it be the same.

Remember . . .
Prom night,
the fear you had,
Afraid that everything
wouldn't go just right.

All that is past us now . . .
Its time to think of your Graduation,
And what lies ahead of us
after our final high school summer vacation.
